

Homework Solutions

Chapter 3 – Page 196

Review Exercise 43

The experimenter himself made the judgment of who was less stressed. Because he taught the yoga class, he had an interest in showing that it reduced stress. This is an example of experimenter bias. (We are criticizing the design of the experiment, not the experimenter. We do not know that the experimenter exhibited any bias, but the design of the experiment would allow it.)